Subject: input on regulatory framework for short selling

Dear Ilana

Referring to <https://www.iroc.ca/news-and-publications/notices-and-guidance/csa-and-iroc-seek-input-regulatory-framework-short-selling-canada>, I would like to provide the following brief input: short selling should be illegal in all its forms. Indeed, just like arbitration, it doesn't help price definition per se, rather, it modifies the market in its dynamics or reach for the purpose of grabbing money during price changes, unduly impoverishing others, while not bringing any relevant value, neither from any social or sustainability standpoint, nor to the industrial or commercial activity that it impacts upon.

I hope this helps,

Best
