Introduction

The Ontario Securities Commission has established this Charter of Governance to promote transparent, accountable and informed governance. The Ontario Securities Commission is committed to excellence in our governance practices. That commitment is supported by clear roles and responsibilities, effective processes and reporting, and extensive strategic planning and stakeholder engagement. It follows the best practices of corporate governance for public companies, where appropriate for a regulator. The Ontario Securities Commission aims to continuously advance and innovate its governance framework.

The Ontario Securities Commission is the regulator responsible for overseeing the capital markets in Ontario. It is a self-funded Crown agency, accountable to the Ontario Legislature through the Minister of Finance. The Ontario Securities Commission administers and enforces the Securities Act, the Commodity Futures Act and carries out the powers, duties and functions given to it under the Securities Commission Act, 2021 and any other Act, including the Business Corporations Act.

The Capital Markets Tribunal is established by the Securities Commission Act, 2021 as a division of the Ontario Securities Commission. It is the administrative tribunal that is assigned the power to conduct hearings under the Securities Act and the Commodity Futures Act. The Chief Adjudicator is responsible for supervising and directing the operations of the Tribunal. The Board of Directors does not have any oversight of the Tribunal's adjudicative functions. The adjudicative functions of the Tribunal include presiding over, deciding, and issuing reasons and orders in Tribunal proceedings, and the Chief Adjudicator's related functions. These related functions include:

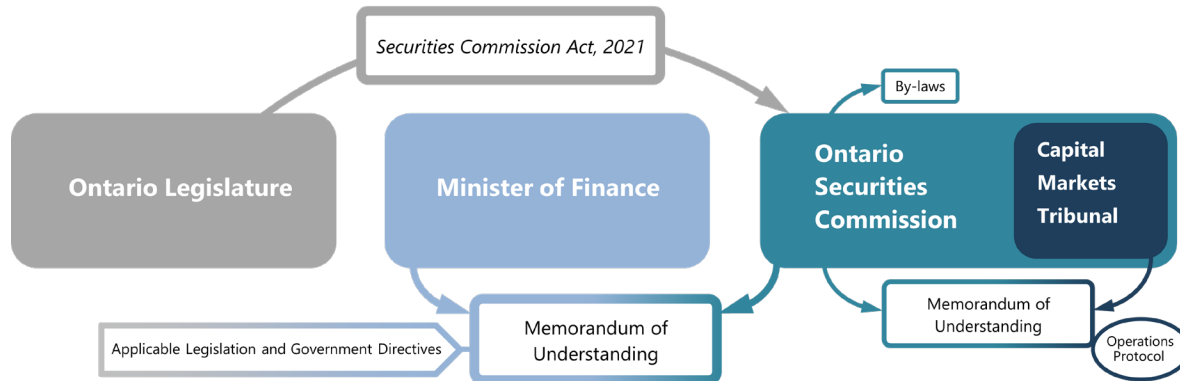

- Adjudicator recruitment, orientation, training and education
- assigning Adjudicators to hearings
- overseeing, monitoring, and evaluating Adjudicator performance
- setting service standards relating to Tribunal proceedings
- ensuring an appropriate orientation and training framework is in place for Governance & Tribunal Secretariat staff who support the Tribunal

Organizational Structure

Staff of the Ontario Securities Commission work across several divisions that perform a range of regulatory, corporate and advisory responsibilities.

Our Organizational Structure explains how the Commission and its Executive Team are organized.

Governance Authorities

Securities Commission Act, 2021

The Securities Commission Act, 2021 continues the Ontario Securities Commission as a corporation without share capital and establishes the separate positions of Chief Executive Officer, Chair of the Board, and Board Director. It also establishes the Capital Markets Tribunal as a division of the Ontario Securities Commission, with an independent Chief Adjudicator and Adjudicators. The Act outlines the basic governance and accountability structure for the Ontario Securities Commission. Unlike a business corporation, the Ontario Securities Commission does not have shareholders to whom the Board reports. Instead, it is accountable to the Minister of Finance and, through the Minister, the Ontario Legislature.

Securities Act (Ontario)

Although structured as a corporation, the Ontario Securities Commission is a regulator and its mandate, as specified by the Securities Act and the Commodity Futures Act, is to:

- provide protection to investors from unfair, improper or fraudulent practices,
- foster fair, efficient and competitive capital markets and commodity futures markets and confidence in those markets,
- foster capital formation, and
- contribute to the stability of the financial system and the reduction of systemic risk.

The Securities Act and Commodity Futures Act set out the fundamental principles that the Ontario Securities Commission shall consider in administering and enforcing these Acts.

By-laws

The Securities Commission Act, 2021 provides that the Ontario Securities Commission's Board may propose by-laws governing the management of the Ontario Securities Commission's affairs. By-laws are subject to the approval of the Minister of Finance.

By-law No. 1 describes, among other things, the powers of the Ontario Securities Commission, the conduct of Board and committee meetings, the appointment and roles of certain officers, and the indemnification and other protections of Board Directors and officers.

By-law No. 2 governs the Ontario Securities Commission's borrowing and investing authority.

Memorandum of Understanding

The Agencies and Appointments Directive requires the Ontario Securities Commission to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Minister of Finance that reflects the accountability framework and sets out roles and responsibilities. The Memorandum of Understanding remains in effect until it is renewed, usually every five years.

Board of Directors

The Commission may have a maximum of twelve Board Directors. The Securities Commission Act, 2021, together with By-law No. 1, provide that the Board be composed of at least three and not more than eleven individuals appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, plus the full-time Chief Executive Officer. The appointee Board Directors are independent of management and are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Minister of Finance. Though they are part-time appointees, they devote as much time as necessary to perform their duties. The Chair of the Board is designated by the Lieutenant Governor in Council from among those independent Board Directors.

Board of Directors

The Board oversees adherence to the principles established by the Government of Ontario, the Memorandum of Understanding, the Public Service of Ontario Act, 2006 and the Ontario Securities Commission Code of Conduct relating to ethical behaviour, accountability, excellence in management, wise use of public funds, high-quality service to the public and fairness in the marketplace.

The Board holds strategic planning and priority setting meetings with management to determine the organization's Statement of Priorities and Business Plan.

The Board holds regulatory meetings and governance meetings. Through regular and special regulatory meetings, the Board reviews and approves regulatory initiatives, priorities, policies and rules and discusses general oversight of the capital markets. Through quarterly and special governance meetings, the Board manages or supervises the management of the Ontario Securities Commission's affairs, other than matters relating to the Capital Markets Tribunal's adjudicative functions. At both regulatory and governance meetings, the Board holds closed sessions with and without the Chief Executive Officer and the Corporate Secretary.

Appointment and Term

Each independent Board Director is appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council. The Lieutenant Governor in Council also designates one independent Board Director as Chair of the Board.

Appointments and reappointments are made in accordance with the Agencies and Appointments Directive, the Memorandum of Understanding and the procedures of the Public Appointments Secretariat of the Government of Ontario. In accordance with the Agencies and Appointments Directive, government appointments will respect the needs of the entity to which they have been appointed, but will also reflect the diversity of the people in Ontario and the need to deliver services and decisions in a professional, ethical and competent manner.

The Agencies and Appointments Directive provides that a person appointed to a regulatory agency will serve an initial appointment for a period of up to two years, and may be eligible for reappointment for a second term of up to three years and a third term of up to five years. The Ontario Securities Commission has adopted a practice to recommend the reappointment of eligible independent Board Directors for up to two additional terms of two years each, resulting in a possible overall term of six years.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Governance & Tribunal Secretariat leads a strategic and comprehensive orientation program for newly appointed Board Directors. The orientation program is modular in design and is provided over time to assist with learning. It includes information about organizational structure, strategic priorities, the policy and rule-making process, risk management, the Ontario Securities Commission Code of Conduct, conflict management, and governance framework.

The orientation program provides a valuable opportunity to acquaint new Board Directors with the work of the Ontario Securities Commission and its staff. Board Directors receive technology instruction and are assigned mentors from among the experienced Board Directors. Staff introduce new Board Directors to the organization's priorities, emerging issues and ongoing work.

On an ongoing basis, Board Directors are briefed on current market and securities industry developments at regulatory meetings and governance meetings. Board Directors also participate in ongoing governance education.

Remuneration

Independent Board Directors are remunerated in accordance with the Agencies and Appointments Directive. The Public Sector Salary Disclosure Act, 1996 requires the disclosure of the total annual remuneration of an appointed Chief Executive Officer, Chair of the Board, and independent Board Director who receives annual remuneration in excess of $100,000. Total remuneration, not including expenses, provided to each individual appointee is included in the Ontario Securities Commission Annual Report.

Attributes

The Ontario Securities Commission strives to ensure Board Directors collectively possess the required mix of skills and experience necessary to enable the Ontario Securities Commission to carry out its mandate and support an accessible, inclusive and innovative approach to stakeholder engagement.

Board Directors have an advanced understanding of the Canadian capital markets. Board Directors maintain an independent perspective and value public service.
