

Subject: Proposed NI 31-103

Dear Sir/Madam

If I understand correctly the above proposal would require an investor to provide much more personal financial information than currently required when making some investments. I also am concerned that the person selling the investment would be in a position to decline to sell it if they deemed it unsuitable for the person making the investment. It seems to me that we have enough controls on our lives already without another one being levied possibly limiting my ability to make my own decision about money that I have spent my life accumulating. At the age of 65 I find this totally unacceptable. Lets remember to keep "Free Enterprise" free.

Thank You John Riseborough
