

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my disappointment about learning of some of the proposed amendments to existing securities policies and regulations. As a private investor, I am not interested in be legislated to disclose my personal financial information before being able to secure an investment of interest.

I respectfully request that more thorough consideration be given to such changes and a more effective method of establishing financial protection for the general public be considered.

Regards

Sheldon Penney