

Hello,

I have recently become aware that the Canadian Securities Administrators ("CSA") have proposed a number of changes to current securities policies and regulations, specifically that detailed financial information will be required to be submitted for those investing in exempt market securities.

As a Canadian investor interested in liberty and freedom, I would like to voice my disagreement with these proposed changes. I request that you do your part to ensure this legislation is not passed.

Thank you,